The rustic, which still preserves all the characteristics of the mountain houses, is on two floors plus cellar of about 20 square meters. On the ground floor of about 25 square meters. we have a living room with kitchenette and a beautiful original fireplace of the time, a closet and a bathroom. A part of the ceiling of the living room is open, from which you can see the wooden ceiling. The internal staircase leads to the first floor where we have a gallery attic. The rustic house is about 300 metres from the village square, where there is also a public car park.

This pretty house, immediately habitable, is surrounded by nature and tranquility.

Gurro is a small village located in the upper Cannobina Valley, has 122 inhabitants. Easily reachable from Cannobio (16 km), if you come from Lake Maggiore, or from Malesco (18 km), if you come from the nearby Valle Viguzzo, this small village has a very ancient history. It is said that its origin dates back to 1525, the year in which some Scottish mercenary soldiers camped in the village without leaving.

Gurro still preserves an ancient old town centre with stone houses with large wooden loggias, narrow one to the other, and small streets that cross the entire town centre. In the centre of the old village there is the Ethnographic Museum of the Cannobina Valley, the "Circolo degli Scozzesi", two bars, restaurants and shops.
